Born in Renana, Israel in 1952, Menashe Cohen has been captured by the art of photography and the lure of the camera for over 40 years. His love of horses in general and Arabian horses in particular has led him to concentrate on them almost exclusively in his work since 2005. An x-ray and ultrasound technician, Menashe pursues his craft as a gifted amateur, spending almost all of his free days and his annual leave looking for opportunities to photograph Arabian horses both in Israel and abroad.
